

WHAT WE TALK ABOUT

What We Talk About When We Talk About Work is currently looking for writers.

What We Talk About is ... a programme of public discussions bringing together curators and artists working across the north of the UK with creative practitioners from different European cities. The discussions are focused upon exploring ways of working outside, across, between and within existing institutional structures. Each event takes a particular thematic inviting practitioners to share their current projects and their approach to working. The programme launched at MIMA, Middlesbrough Institute of Modern Art and will continue until August 2018. Please visit whenwetalkaboutwork.co.uk for the full talks schedule and information on participating speakers.

Writing Bursary

A bursary is available a writer, artist or curator to attend one or more of the following talks and develop a new piece of text in response to the discussions.

- Fictional Encounters 5th April,
Northern Gallery of Contemporary Art
- Staging and Film Sets 26th July,
The Grundy Art Gallery
- Sound and Listening 18th August,
The Whitworth Manchester

Recipients will receive a £200 fee and £50 towards travel expenses. Texts will be published on this is tomorrow and as such need to be sympathetic to the publications current writing style.

What We Talk About When We Talk About Work is a project developed by Laura Mansfield supported with public funding from Arts Council England

The writing bursary has been made available thanks to

When We Talk About Work

How to Apply

If you are interested in applying for a bursary please send a short biography, an outline of your interest in one of the given talks (500 words max) and a sample of your previous writing to lauramansf@gmail.com by the 26th of February. Please include What We Talk About in the email subject line.

To be eligible for a bursary you must be based in the north of the UK and have not had more than 6 prior pieces of writing published.